Residents' feedback invited on Local Law amendments

Gladstone Regional Council is inviting residents to comment on proposed amendments to its Animal Management Subordinate Local Law.

Gladstone Region Councillor Rick Hansen said Council encouraged the community to take the opportunity and provide feedback on the proposed changes.

"The Animal Management Subordinate Local Law contains provisions about the animal management within the region," Councillor Hansen said.

"These proposed amendments will impact current and future animal owners, commercial animal owners and other residents.

"It is recommended those impacted by these changes take the time to review and provide feedback."

Residents are invited to review the proposed changes and have their say by submitting their feedback in writing online or in person.

For more information and to review the local law, visit Council's website at www.gladstone.qld.gov.au/animal-management-amendment

Written submissions can be sent to Gladstone Regional Council, PO Box 29, Gladstone QLD 4680.

Submissions close on Friday, 20 December 2019.
